STROUP WINS FIGHT IN COURT AGAINST BOARD OF COUNTY COMMISSIONERS
Judge Ira A. Abbott Renders Decision Which Will Place Sixteen Thousand Dollars in School Treasuries.

CITY SCHOOLS WILL RECEIVE TIDY SUM
Sixteen thousand dollars for the schools in Bernalillo county; sixteen thousand dollars that the board of county commissioners seemed to take away from the general school fund and re-allocate to the general county fund, was returned to the school districts by a decision rendered yesterday in the case of the territory of New Mexico, ex rel. the board of education, vs. the board of county commissioners of Bernalillo county. This sixteen thousand dollars was due from the schools in the city of Albuquerque, and county of Bernalillo, possession of the officials—E. B. Stroup, county superintendent of schools, who is a candidate in the state ticket for superintendent of schools, assisted by E. W. D. Bryan, attorney for the board of education of the city of Albuquerque.

Chapter 114, of the Laws of 1909, provides that in counties where the collection for one year from the sources mentioned exceeds the sum of $150,000, such treasurers and assessors of such counties shall not receive to exceed the sum of $4,500 for any one year, and the excess shall be by the treasurer turned over to the credit of a fund to be known as the "general county deficiency fund," to be used for the purpose of paying heretofore approved, outstanding, floating indebtedness, contracted during prior fiscal years, and for the payment of which no other provision has heretofore been made. Provided, however, that where there is no outstanding floating indebtedness, as above mentioned, the excess fees shall be turned over to the credit of the general school fund.

Contrary to the provisions of this act, the board of county commissioners of Bernalillo county last spring were contemplating expending this money for general county purposes, on the 29th day of March the county school superintendent, A. B. Stroup, now candidate for state superintendent of public instruction on the Republican ticket, appeared before the board of county commissioners and asked that this money be turned over to the general school fund, as there were no outstanding approved indebtednesses of prior fiscal years for the payment of which no other provision had been made. The commissioners took the matter under advisement, and again on April 2 Mr. Stroup appeared before the commissioners and asked for a decision in the matter, and that this money be turned over to the general school fund, where it properly belonged. The commissioners, at this meeting, said that they were advised that they could use the money for other purposes, and refused to turn it over to the school fund.

On April 6 E. W. D. Bryan, attorney for the city board of education of Albuquerque, presented a petition from that board asking that the money be turned over to the general school fund for distribution among the different districts, which petition was denied. Mr. Bryan, on behalf of the city board of education, filed a suit in mandamus, asking the court to compel the board of county commissioners and treasurer to turn over the money in the deficiency fund to the general school fund, in which suit, at the request of the district attorney, Collins and Stroup appeared as attorney for the outlying school districts, putting up parties interested before the court. This suit culminated yesterday in a judgment in favor of the school districts and against the board of county commissioners and treasurer for the sum of $7,167.11, the amount now in the deficiency fund, and further provides for the payment to the general school fund of moneys that are not to come into this fund, except as provided in the statute, since the treasurer and assessor have both received their $4500 for the year 1911. This means that the total four per cent of all taxes paid between now and the first of January will go to the general school fund. It is estimated that at least $9,000 will come into the general school fund. By the judgment rendered yesterday the general school fund will receive before the first of January a total of more than $16,000.
